

PICKING UP STEAM

The 2013 Kansas Housing Markets Forecast marks the 10th year we have prepared an annual housing forecast. For the first several years our focus was on Wichita alone. Starting in 2010, we expanded our scope to cover the other metropolitan areas in Kansas. This year we have expanded it further, including information about the condition of smaller markets across the state. So the title for this year's forecast seems to have a double meaning. Just like the state's housing markets, the Center for Real Estate is Picking Up Steam.
