WSU Center for Real Estate unveils new website

The Wichita State University Center for Real Estate unveiled a new website this week with enhanced tools for doing research on real estate markets across the state. The website can be found at www.wichita.edu/realestate.

“The heart of the website is our new Market Graphs and Analysis tool that allows users explore a variety of data related to real estate markets in Kansas,” says Stan Longhofer, director of the Center for Real Estate.

The new website now provides data for real estate markets across Kansas, including for Kansas City, Lawrence, Manhattan and Topeka.
